Natura | nOWAcoustic for ceilings and walls

Natural.
Sustainable.
New.

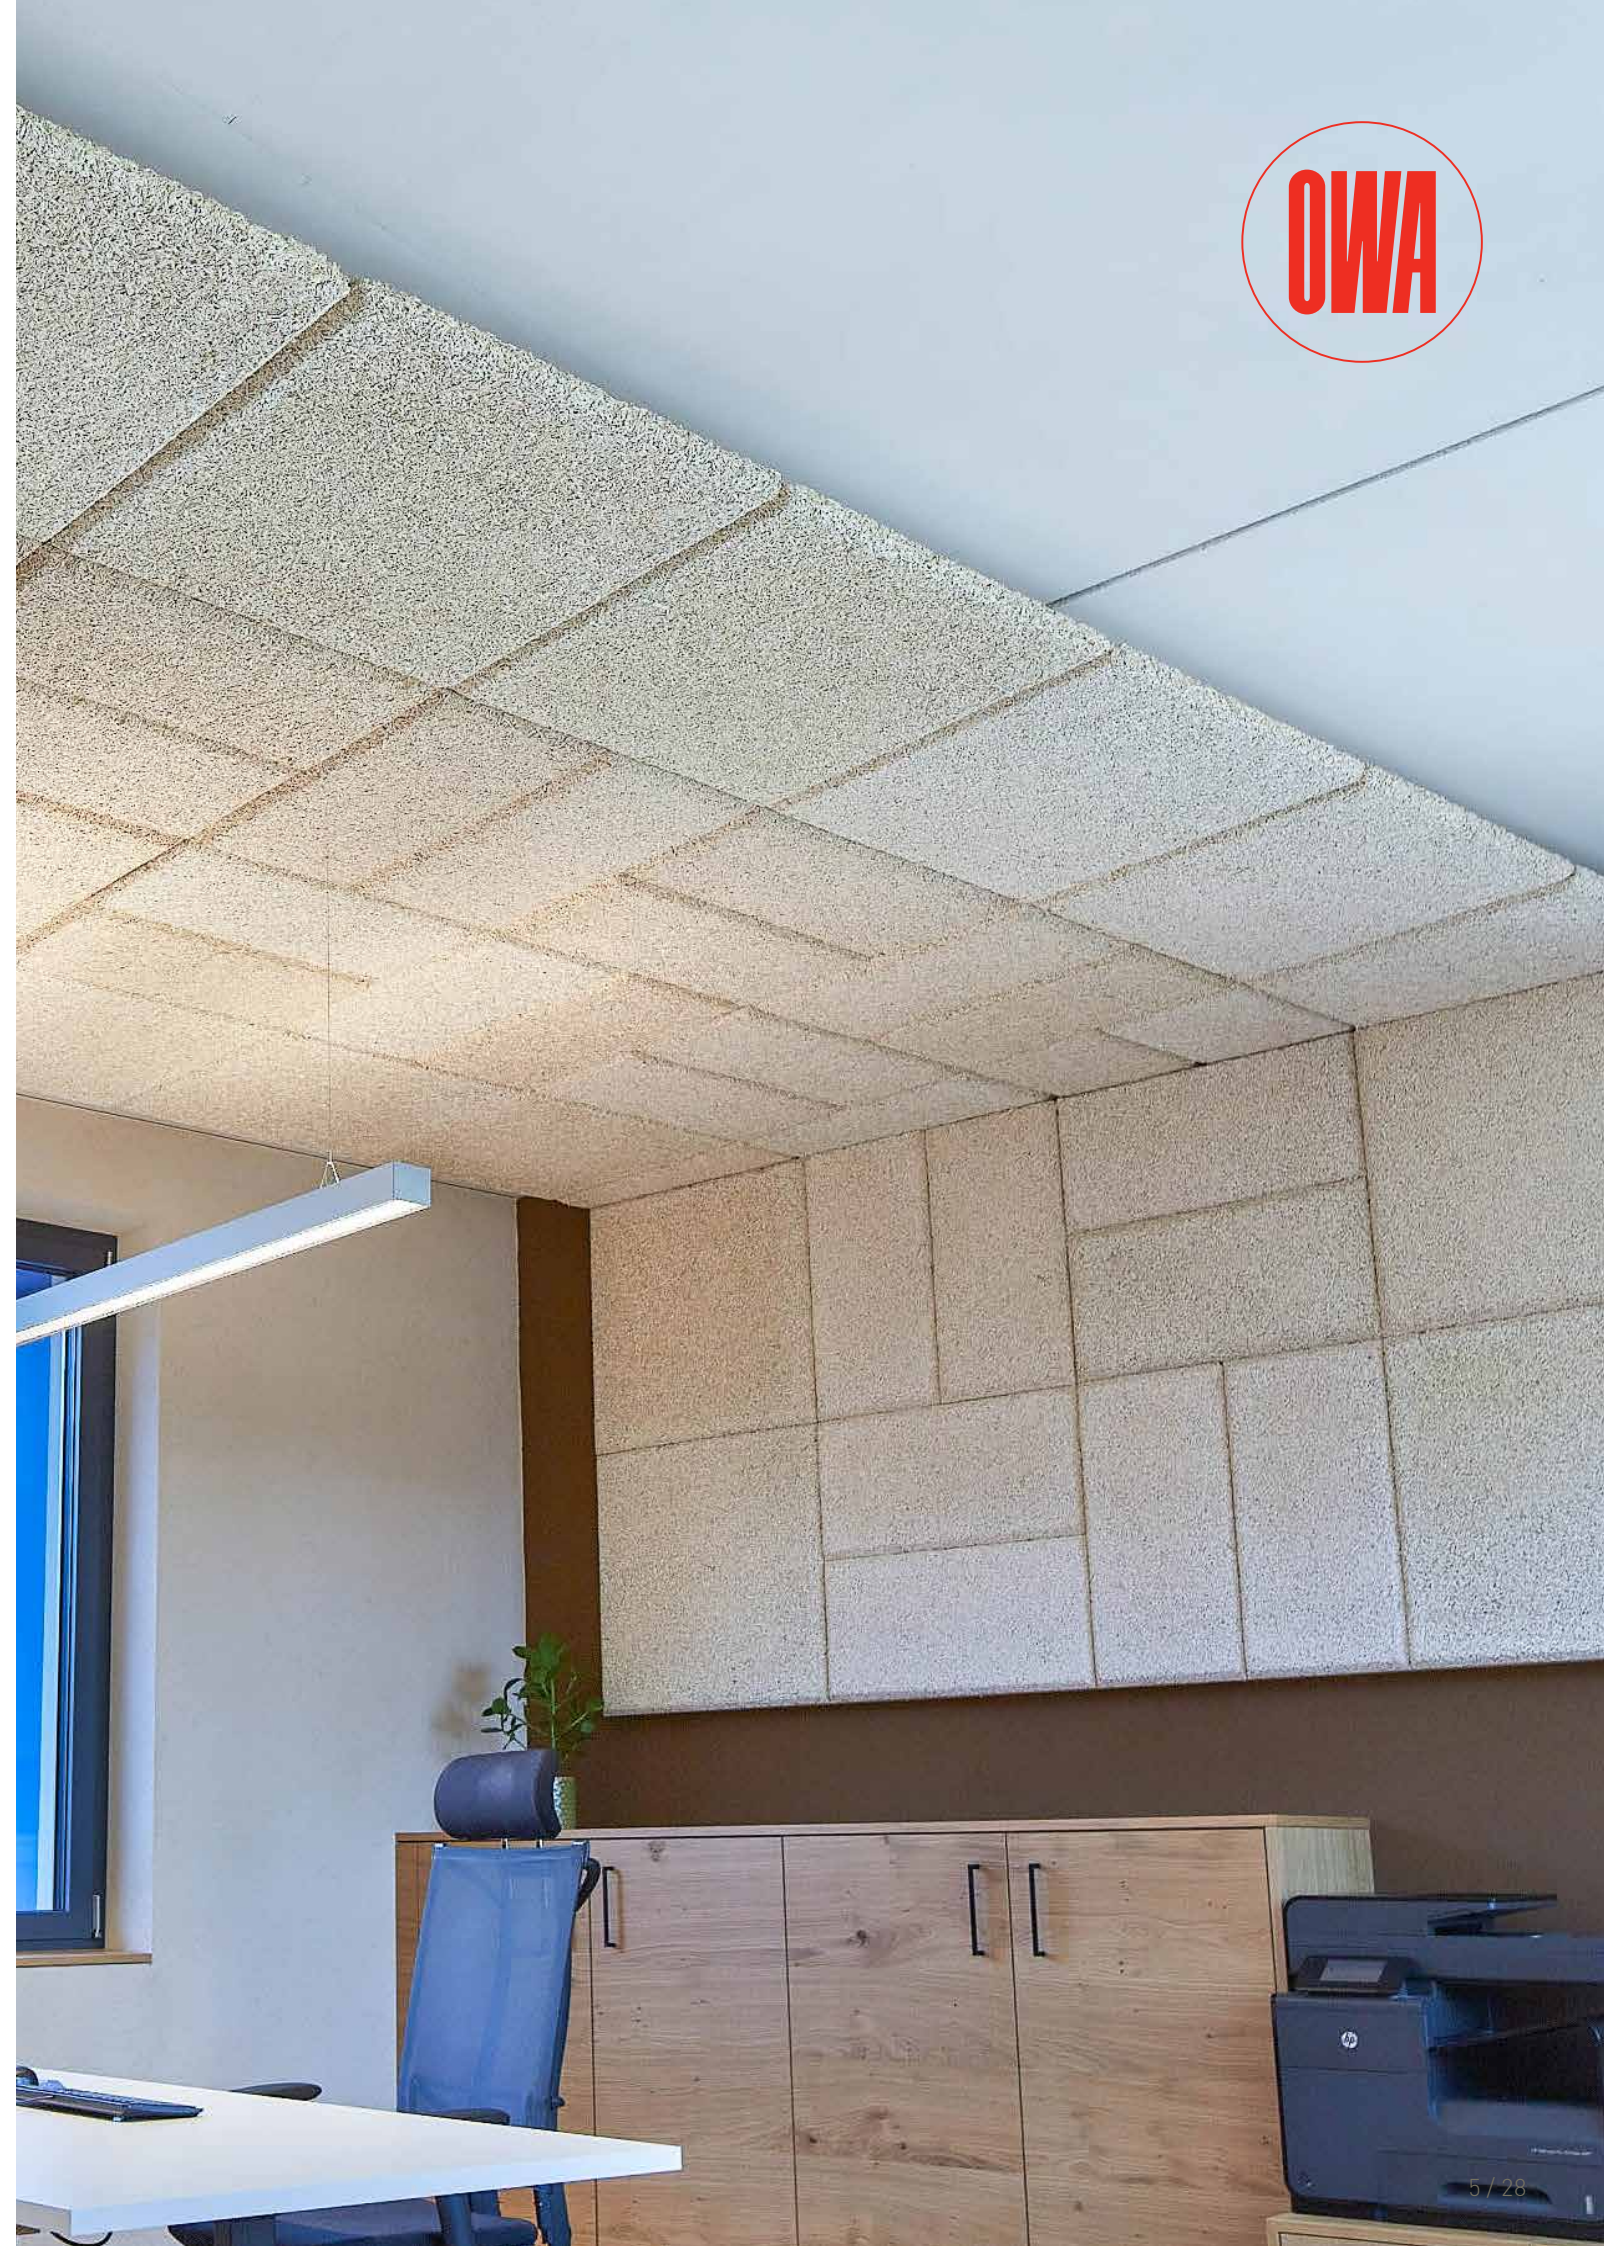

Our new Natura hemp straw tiles from the nOWAcoustic collection impresses with its natural materiality, its positive contribution to the ecological balance and its versatility.

Its rapidly renewable raw material comes from the woody core of the hemp plant – a by-product of hemp processing. Via a specially developed process, this residual material is worked further in a resource-saving manner, forming the basis for the completely natural hemp straw board. Throughout the process, more CO₂ is bound from the atmosphere than is emitted during production.

Natura is vapour-permeable and thus contributes to a comfortable and healthy indoor climate. Thanks to its cement-free binder, the natural composition and surface texture inspire. The manufacturing process is designed to utilise existing raw materials as efficiently as possible and avoid waste. This makes hemp a zero-waste resource.

A wide variety of formats, edge designs and colours offer a high degree of design flexibility. Natura is ideal for creating unique interior design concepts and custom architectural statements, ensuring a pleasant environment with carbon benefits.
